Dear Family members,

I would like to provide an update on the situation here at Jeanne Jugan Residence. Last week a part-time nurse was tested as usual and the result was negative. She visited family members on the holiday, did not feel well after the visit, had herself tested and the result was positive. She and another full time night nurse who visited her family on the same day are furloughed because she was exposed to this nurse.

We now have one Sister, one aide and two nurses furloughed for ten days — three because of exposure and one who tested positive. Hopefully this situation will not continue to worsen. The holidays encourage people to let down their guard, visit in large groups without wearing masks or social distance. The result as you already know is a surge in the spread of the virus.

Please join us in praying that everyone will strive to be vigilant during the holiday season and take the necessary precautions to protect themselves and their families. Happy New Year.

Sincerely,

Sr. Gertrude Mary lsp
