Dear Family Members,

I am happy to tell you that ALL Residents tested negative this week and are doing well. Unfortunately, we still have two furloughed staff members and hopefully they will be returning to work soon. We are hoping that the St Francis unit will be able to come out of quarantine next week. This will be possible if no additional staff member working there, tests positive. We will keep you posted.

Many of you know Mylyn Llanos, a very dedicated staff member who has worked both in Activities and as a certified nurse's aide since 2014. Mylyn is very gifted in responding to the needs of the elderly and has made a significant contribution in her work with our Activity Director in keeping the Residents engaged and occupied during these distressing times. We are sad to announce that she is planning on taking a position closer to home and her last day at Jeanne Jugan Residence will be February 4th. She will be sorely missed but this move is an opportunity for her to advance her career. Although we will miss her, we are happy for her that she has been given this opportunity. She has traveled between 3 to 4 hours a day to come to work for a couple of years now.

We wish Mylyn well and have promised to accompany her with our prayers. We ask you to include her in yours as well which I'm sure those who know her are more than happy to do.

Have a wonderful weekend.

Sincerely,

Sr. Gertrude Mary
