Dear Family Member,

Perhaps you have already heard that the Holy Father has proclaimed the closest Sunday to the feast of Saints Joachim and Anne, World Day of Prayer for Grandparents and the Elderly. All our homes throughout the country are finding ways to celebrate this beautiful feast. Here at Jeanne Jugan we are planning outdoor entertainment and ice-cream treats along with a special mass for this special day. The Pope often focuses on his love for the elderly and the need for them to be respected and treated with dignity.

We are happy to announce that we again have had no cases of COVID-19 over the past week. We were also delighted to have Margarita our hairdresser back for the first time today. We are hoping to continue to see things loosening up for nursing homes going forward but it is essential for people to consider being vaccinated if they haven't been. All our Residents in the skilled unit have been vaccinated and over 75% of the staff. We continue to encourage all those unvaccinated to reconsider.

That about all the news for now. Have a great weekend.

Sincerely,

Sr. Gertrude Mary
