

Quaker Ridge Golf Club has a par-70, 6,772-yard A. W. Tillinghast designed course – often called "Tillie's Treasure" – and is frequently mentioned when accomplished golfers are asked to name the best course in the New York Metropolitan area. The course is also highly regarded on both National and international levels. In March 1989, Quaker Ridge was voted the number one course in the Metropolitan Area by The Met Golfer magazine. In its 2015 rankings, Golf Digest rated Quaker Ridge #71 in the United States.

During the 1974 U.S. Open at Winged Foot, Jack Nicklaus, was asked whether he thought that Winged Foot was the greatest course in the world. Nicklaus replied: "That may be, but there is quite a golf course down the street."

The Little Sisters of the Poor are an international congregation of Roman Catholic women religious founded in 1839 by Saint Jeanne Jugan to care for the elderly poor. Continuing her work, we offer the neediest elderly of every race and religion a home where they will be welcomed as Christ, cared for as family and accompanied with dignity until God calls them to himself.

Convinced that we are all children of the same heavenly Father and thus form one human family, Jeanne Jugan sought to involve people from many walks of life in her mission of hospitality. "We'll share them, Sir," she once said to a benefactor, "I'll care for them and you will provide for their needs." We still count on the generosity of benefactors to continue our care of needy elderly persons throughout the New York area. Please help us to continue caring for another 150 years!
